TO THE WEST! TO THE WEST!
Before making your arrangements to follow the advice of the "thousands who have already gone," it would be well to consider what has been done to make the journey to your "Homes in the West" as pleasant and free from danger as human skill and foresight can accomplish.

By consolidation and construction, a road has been put into operation on the shortest possible line from Nashville, Tenn., to St. Louis, "the future great City of the world."

This line, the ST. LOUIS & SOUTHWESTERN RAILWAY, has, during the past year, earned an enviable reputation by its smooth track, prompt time, sure connections, and the magnificence of its passenger equipment. Its trains are made up of new and commodious day cars, provided with the celebrated Miller coupler and platform, and the Westinghouse air-brake.

It is positively the only line running Pullman Palace Drawing-Room Sleepers Cars through without change from Nashville to St. Louis. No other line pretends to offer such advantages, either in distance, time, or equipment. Why, then, journey by circuitous routes? Do not be induced to purchase tickets to St. Louis or the West by any other line, remember that the "St. Louis & Southwestern" is the shortest, cheapest, quickest, best and only line under one management from Nashville to St. Louis, and is from 60' to 200 miles the shortest to St. Louis, Kansas City, Omaha, Denver, California, Texas, and all western points. It is also the "Chicago Shortest Line," via Evansville.

You can secure the cheapest rates for yourselves and your movables on application, in person or by letter, to CHARLES McCABE, Southern Passenger Agent, near College Street Depot, Nashville, Tenn., or to the undersigned.

The Evening Post.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

Friday, September 26th, 1873.

A committee composed of the following gentlemen, Mr. Thomas M. Holt, President of the Society; Judge Thomas Settle, Senators Merrimon and Ransom, Gov. Caldwell, Hon. W. N. H. Smith, Col. I. J. Young, Hon. W. A. Smith, Hon. S. H. Rogers and Capt. T. F. Lee, was appointed to invite President Grant to be present at the State Fair, and a correspondent of the Washington Republican said that they would assure him that he "would be received with open arms by the people of the State." The Charlotte Observer gets terribly excited over the matter and scolds. After scoring various members of the committee, including Senator Merrimon, whom the Observer supported for Governor last year, it says:

These distinguished (!) men may welcome Grant "with open arms," but, speaking for the Conservatives of Western North Carolina, we can say that a portion at least of the people of this State would extend no cordial welcome to the man who of all others is perhaps most responsible for the present degraded and disgraceful condition of the Federal and State governments.

The italics and "astonisher" are as they appear in the Observer. The taste exhibited in them we leave to its friends to discover. The gentlemen composing the committee are the leading men in this State of both political parties, and include our Governor, our two U. S. Senators, members of Congress, etc. Waxing warmer, the Observer says:

President Grant, because of the high office with which he is invested, is entitled to respect and courtesy wherever he appears; but, in the South it is only the baser part of the body politic—the Radical portion—that will receive him with "open arms."

Does the Observer class Senators Merrimon and Ransom as among the "baser part of the body politic?" We did all we could to defeat these gentlemen, but we never knew them to be base. During the entire State campaign, while the Post supported Gov. Caldwell and opposed Merrimon, we never wrote a syllable against his character or ability; but now the slur comes from a paper that advocated his claims for Governor. But we always knew that Republicans were ungrateful. Because Judge Merrimon would not bow down before the Vance, or extreme, wing of the Democratic party, he became distasteful and obnoxious to the faithful, and they were as fierce to denounce as they formerly had been to praise. This peculiar trait among the Democrats is illustrated in the following paragraph:

When Mr. Grant has done something to entitle him to the admiration or affections of the Southern people, it is time enough then for them to bestow honors upon him.

The time was when Gen. Grant had the power to crush the leaders of the rebellion as with an iron heel. His noble action at the surrender of General Lee, when he said to the Confederate soldiers, "boys, go home with your horses and make a crop," is for gotten; likewise his firmness in forcing President Johnson to respect the parole of the Confederate Generals. Gen. Grant had the power then, with an army flushed with victory to back him, to perpetrate almost any act of oppression, but he nobly stood between Andy Johnson's ignorant and his paroled soldiers, and declared that if they were arrested he would resign his commission. Were there many Generals in the South who would have done as much? Holding a high position as General in the United States army for life, won by a series of the most brilliant achievements, the war over, and peace about to be declared, he periled all for the sake of his military honor. But he has done nothing for the South!

But we have not yet reached the secret of all this tirade. The cat in the meal is yet to be uncovered! Here comes ye cat:

Grant has perhaps shown his wisdom in declining the cordial invitation. Voorhees, the great Democratic orator and the friend of the South, is to deliver the annual address, he could, we imagine, hardly speak before a Southern audience without portraying with his usual vim and eloquence the almost unnumbered and gaudy evils that have fastened upon the government since the beginning of Grant's administration. It would not be pleasant to Grant to hear the damning truths about his administration told in his presence to a Southern assemblage by an eloquent speaker.

We called attention some weeks ago to the selection of Mr. Voorhees, for the orator and asked if he was to deliver a Democratic speech, but have received no response. This seems to be the programme, according to the Observer, but we hope, for the future welfare of the society, that it is in error. If Dan Voorhees makes a political speech on that occasion, it will be the sounding of the death knell of the society. So far, it has as far we know, carefully abstained from partisanship, and as we said in a former article, we have nothing to say against the selection of a Democratic orator on the occasion, but political issues have nothing to do with the State Agricultural Society, and if it would be a success, it had better keep clear of them. Now, the leading men of both parties unite upon the common platform of State progress, and in forgetting political animosities, labor for the common weal. This state of things should be carefully encouraged that the State may be prosperous.

The following customary glorification closes the article, and our Senators, members of Congress, and Governor must hide their diminished heads before this virtuous sheet:

The true men of the South are not made up of such base stuff as to lick the hand that has never been extended toward them, except to strike the liberties and interests of the country some deadening blow.

"In the words of the prophet—signs."

EDITORIAL BUDGET.

—The report of the failure of a Berlin bank proves unfounded.

—Francesco Tuerrazzi proclaimed Dictator at Rome in 1849, died at Rome on Tuesday, aged 68.

—The Spanish Minister of Colonies proposes to go to Havana in person to study the Cuban question, with a view to making important reforms.

—Queenstown dispatch announces that the steamer Italy has arrived from New York, and that the steamer City of Antwerp has sailed for that city.

—It is reported that John Bright is opposed to the war against the Ashantis and will resign his position in the Cabinet if it is further prosecuted.

—The British Association, in session at Bradford, has adopted a resolution urging the Government to send an exploring expedition to the Arctic region.

—The London Financialer says the business of the Atlantic cables has increased since the beginning of the panic in New York, and the receipts are now estimated at $27,000 daily.

—The Provisional Correspondent says the visit of King Victor Emanuel to Vienna and Berlin offers to Europe another guarantee of a decisive and effective peace policy on the part of Italy, Austria and Prussia.

—The insurgent frigates left the harbor of Alicante because the foreign consuls, except the representative of Great Britain, protested against the bombardment of the city. The British consul, for some unknown reason, refused to join in the protest.

—The French Royalists have hopes of a division in the Bonapartists' ranks. The Rouher faction is disposed to act in conjunction with the Royalists, while McMahon and his friends are opposed to the prolongation of the present provisional regime.

—Rev. Naryou Shespadore, a native of Bombay; Dr. Hugh Miller and wife, for twenty-five years connected with missions in India, and Miss J. Kilpatrick, of Scotland, delegates to the Evangelical Alliance, arrived at New York by the steamer California, Thursday.

—The London Daily Telegraph, in an editorial on the financial crisis in New York, recommends the virtual suspension of all payments and the substitution of a system based on individual credit. By this means time will be given for the excitement to subside.

—The investigation at Glasgow into the running down of the ship Abeona by the steamer Alabama has terminated. The captain has been reprimanded, and his first officer, who was in charge at the time of the collision, has his certificate suspended for eighteen months.

—It is reported that the Spanish government will soon address a formal complaint to the French government, setting forth that the Carlist chieftain, Seballa, was permitted to pass through French territory, and cross the frontier into Caledonia without hindrance, in violation of the obligations of neutrality.

—Notwithstanding the exaggerated reports about yellow fever in New Orleans, the general health of the city was never better at this season. Dr. C. B. White, President of Board of Health, in an official statement to-day mentions the fact that seventy-seven days have elapsed since the first case occurred, and that to date the number of deaths from the disease has not averaged one and a half per day. He also states that there are now only twenty-six cases under treatment, and most of these are convalescent. The cases are all remote from the business centre.

—The $188,000 drawn from the Bank of England on balance, Wednesday, was for shipment to New York; $200,000 in addition to the above was shipped to the same place. It is believed in financial circles that a flow of bullion from England to the United States will commence soon.

—The money panic in Little Rock continues. While a large number of merchants decided to continue taking city money as formerly, a large number, including nearly all the produce and grocery dealers, signed an agreement not to take it as long as the banks refuse to give Eastern exchange for it.

—The examination of the bottom of the steamer Wyoming, which ran on a rock off Sable Island, reveals the fact that from stem to stern the ship's bottom was badly scraped, some of the bolts strained and heads torn away, opening seams of iron plates, thereby causing the leak. The rudder post was broken in two places, and one of the blades of the propeller was broken. One of the engineers says "the vessel had a remarkable escape, and in rough weather could not have been saved." No tidings have yet been received of the third officer and the four men who left the ship in the life-boat when the ship struck.

—The National Council of the Order of United American Mechanics re-assembled at the American Mechanics' Hall, Philadelphia, and during the session received a number of new delegates. The committee in charge of official reports presented a report containing a number of recommendations, which were taken up seriatim. A committee of three was appointed to prepare a revision of the laws of the Order and a digest of decisions. The National Councilor was authorized to appoint a special deputy to look after the interests of the Order in the District of Columbia. An important amendment to the laws was offered and referred to a special committee on the revision of the laws. A committee of three was appointed to prepare and submit a complete revision of subordinate and degree rituals and report as soon as the labor is completed.

 Clark will hold the Robeson Court, and Judge Russell the Court at Onslow this Fall.

 mains of Capt. John C. McHenry to his resting place, to pay the last sad obsequies to his memory.

 night with his family, who have been

MR. WILLIAM McLAUGHLIN, formerly of this city, but latterly Agent of boro, has resigned his position and accepted the agency of the Wheeler and Wilson Sewing Machine Company for the counties of Wayne, Green, Lenoir, Wilson and Pitts, with his headquarters in Goldsboro. We wish friend Mc-Lauglin success.

Two verdant chaps from the wild districts were arrested and carried to the lockup this morning for skylarking on the sidewalk, but were lectured by the Captain of the Police Force and sent on their way rejoicing, as they were not familiar with the ways of city folk and city laws. They of course could not see any impropriety in "playing in the road."

THE WATER WORKS question should not be permitted to die out even during the present excitable times. Their importance cannot be overestimated. Not only would they be of wonderful assistance in case of fires, but the general health of the city would be materially improved. No matter how clear and pure the water may appear, taken from wells, there are many properties in it detrimental to health. How often do we see prostrations from the effects of water? It is as common an expression as household words to say "I have not got accustomed to the water yet." No city ever regretted the introduction of water within its limits, and never will.
 The cost to individual families is very slight compared to the wonderful convenience and health-giving boon of pure water in inexhaustible quantities, and we earnestly hope to see the work commenced here at no distant day. Let us have the water works by all means.

GOOD TEMPLARS.—Hob. W. C. Troy, Grand Worthy Chief Templar of the
 I. O. G. T. of North Carolina is now in the city, and will organize a Lodge this evening. The order is now in a most flourishing condition throughout the State—there being sixty-two Lodges in existence, and about four thousand members in good standing. One of its features is the admission of lady members, of whom there are many prominent and influential. Mrs. Caldwell, of Statesville, fills the honored position of G. W. V. T. A large membership is anticipated in this city.

ARE we to have a special term of the Superior Court this winter? This seems to be the only chance of clearing away the civil docket, and we call the attention of those interested to this chance, now in time. If it is deemed desirable, let the matter be arranged at once, that the necessary authority and publication may be made. We would suggest that the first Monday in January would be a good time, as that would give three weeks before the regular term, which is four more. Two weeks would finish criminal business, and five weeks of civil work could be done.

THE GREENSBORO NEW NORTH STATE says: A little daughter of Mr. A. Brockman, of this city, who was deaf and dumb,
 was sent to Germany about seven years ago, to a school, and has recently returned, able to speak so as to be understood by her friends. She can also understand the conversation of others, although she cannot hear. But this is a great blessing for which her parents are devoutly thankful.

 road."

 pure the water may appear, taken from
 wells, there are many properties in it
 we see prostrations from the effects of
 water? It is as common an expression
 water within its limits, and never will.
 menced here at no distant day. Let us
 have the water works by all means.

 Grand Worthy Chief Templar of the
 I. O. G. T. of North Carolina is now in the city, and will organize a Lodge this
 members in good standing. One of its
 features is the admission of lady members, of whom there are many prominent and influential. Mrs. Caldwell,
 is anticipated in this city.

 Superior Court this winter? This seems
 the civil docket, and we call the attention of those interested to this chance,
 now in time. If it is deemed desirable,
 civil work could be done.

 A little daughter of Mr. A. Brockman,
 of this city, who was deaf and dumb,
 was sent to Germany about seven years ago, to a school, and has recently re-
 devoutly thankful.

THE TOWN CRIER.

— Warm.

— Gold is 111½.

— Streets passable.

— Business dull and feverish.

— Pay your taxes and save costs.

— The town clock is now regularly on the strike.

— Workmen are putting up the fences for circus bills.

— We call attention to the Governor's proclamation.

— Merchants have lots of goods and don't know who to sell to!

— A runaway horse this noon caused slight excitement, but no damage.

— The National Savings Bank is all right. Depositors should not worry.

— "Good times, and bad times, and all times get over." This is very consoling now days.

— New York papers still talk hopefully, but things look decidedly blue.

— Let every man stand by his fellow, and the skies will speedily brighten.

— All religious denominations are welcome to notices in the Post. We require notice of services to be handed in by 1 o'clock to-morrow to insure insertion.

— Money is scarce, but newspapers must run, rain or shine. Printers ink will be the salvation of those who employ it. Cash buyers will carefully scan advertisements to know where to buy the most goods with the least money.

AN ITEM—an item—our last quarter for an item. Can't somebody give us an item? W-h-e-w—how dull!

QUIET.—The enforcement of the sixty day rule by the Savings Bank, although causing considerable excitement among a few for a short time, is acquiesced in with good humor, as one of the inevitable results of the times. We do not anticipate any trouble in this city.

Our banks are owned mostly by men of known wealth and character, and this tends to allay all excitement and fears.

From the hopeful tone of the Northern papers, we glean much that is encouraging, and we trust the worst is over.

Speculation will cease for a time, and there will be more money for legitimate business. We hope that on the first of the week our merchants will materially shorten their faces and be willing to transact their regular business without fears.

A CASAB.—The report that is currently in circulation along the lines of the various railroads running from this city, that the banks here have suspended, is entirely erroneous. There has been no evidences on the part of de-positors of the various banks that they even fear a suspension, and the confidence of depositors is not in the slightest impaired. So far as the depositors' faith in regard to the condition of the banks being even shaken, we learn that on yesterday as well as the day before that the money put on deposit far exceeded the money drawn out, thus leaving them at the close of the day's business with more cash on hand than they had when the doors were thrown open in the morning. This, we think, hardly looks like a suspension.

 State Constitutional Convention of 1855.

The committee appointed to wait on President Grant and request his attendance on the State Fair at Raleigh, will start for Washington City on the 5th of October.

The work of preparation on the lot for the new Post Office building in Raleigh, which was begun on Tuesday, was suspended on Wednesday by orders from Washington.

The boat race at Halifax between Brown, of Halifax, and Biglin, of New York, was won by the former by several lengths.

DETAILS OF THE RACE.
 The course rowed over was five miles in length. At 2 p. m., the water being in tolerably good condition, it was decided to start. Brown launched his boat and pulled towards the referee boat quickly followed by Biglin.

At eleven minutes and thirty-five seconds past three the word "go" was given. Both took the water simultaneously, Biglin, if anything, having the advantage of the Cad. At the start both pulled a quick stroke, but Brown shortly afterwards quieted down to a regular, steady stroke which he maintained throughout the race, only spurting once or twice. The first mile was made in six and a half minutes, both being neck and neck.

When off the Four-mile house wharf, one mile from the starting point, Brown, in response to cheers, spurred and shot a half boat length ahead of Biglin, who up to that point had apparently kept his opponent well in hand. On the way from this point up to the turning buoy Brown maintained a steady, powerful stroke, while Biglin was pulling quickly and splashing almost every time he dipped his oar.

When about two miles of the course was covered, Biglin, who by this time was a good length or more behind Brown, crossed into Brown's water, taking the inside position, but obtained no advantage, and a few minutes afterwards he was in his original position.
 Brown evidently had his opponent collared, and he confidently and steadily pulled toward the rounding buoy which they were then fast approaching. His course from the start was in a more direct line, and his boat better steered than Biglin's.

Brown was the first to turn, striking well out on the home-stretch. Biglin turned a few seconds after, and set himself to work in good style, holding a vigorous stroke and making a good show, and regaining the lost ground. The home-stretch was made in magnificent style, Brown pulling his usual heavy stroke and widening the distance between himself and Biglin every minute.
 As they neared the four-mile house, on the home-stretch, Brown was about two hundred yards ahead, and everything appeared easy for him.

Biglin lay back to his work well, however and labored hard to lessen the distance between himself and Brown on the last mile. Biglin rowed in splendid style on the last mile, but was evidently too nervous in his motions to accomplish anything. Brown kept up his long powerful stroke, crossing the line in 38 minutes and 45 seconds. Biglin was 30 seconds later or at least five boat lengths behind.

Brown twitted upon his oars until Biglin came up, when both paddled to the referee's boat and received the official decision as to the issue of the race.
 Brown and Biglin then rowed together towards shore and were received with cheers. In answer to a question from a bystander Biglin acknowledged that it was a fair beat. Large sums of money changed hands, there being fully $70, 000 worth of pools sold, besides innumerable private bets.

LOUISIANA.

NEW ORLEANS, September 26.
 The banking houses have joined in an address giving reasons for the partial suspension of currency payments for thirty days, by which time they think a movement in cotton will place them in a position to fully resume. Sterling exchange from usual source of currency at this moment is not available except at ruinous rates. Heavy drafts have been made upon them for usual balances from the West and East, and no prospect of their drafts for currency being honored. The banks will pay drafts under one hundred dollars.
